Important developments having a bearing on Indian economy, trade and investment are highlighted below:

India is doing well in terms of economic growth this year. According to the World Bank / IMF estimates, India's economy is projected to rise by 8+ percent and this is supposed to be the highest in the world. No doubt it will be a commendable achievement. But one must understand this is on the background of previous year negative growth on account of COVID pandemic. Nevertheless it is an indicator that India is on the path of becoming an important engine of the world economic growth.

 Few indicators of recent economic growth in India are: During 2021-22 FY, as much as Rs.90000 crores worth funds were raised by 75 IPOs (Initial Public Offers on Stock Exchanges). This was the highest in the last decade or so. Similarly government revenues in this 21-22 FY, increased by as much as 67 percent. Income tax earnings of the government went up by over 50 percent.

 One of the most significant impacts of COVID in India has been the new work environment in terms of Work from Home, Work from Office as well as Hybrid of the two. This is especially true in case of IT and IT-enabled services. Global work environments are no different. In some places four days a week formula has also arrived on the scene. It appears that we will have to live with such new working environments in the long term. However, in case of manufacturing industries, there is no option but to work on the floor. But the world is awakened and is adjusting to the new needs arising.

 The UAE and India have been close partners in the diverse areas such as business, trade & investment, culture and so on. No wonder therefore the two countries have signed a Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) that will bring them still closer. In this issue of TIPS Bulletin, we have highlighted a special write up on what this CEPA means for India. We believe the Readers would find it informative and useful.

 Russia and Ukraine dispute is still ongoing and slowly changes are taking place in international trade and investment patterns. Ukraine has been accepted as a Member of the European Union. Globe is watching these developments with a concern.

 Yet another development that has global implications and especially for India, concerns with Sri Lanka. Sri Lanka economy is apparently trapped in international debt and mainly on account of China. The country is receiving India's help to come out of this trap, to fight inflation and to recover from the economic shocks it has received. We express our sincere hope that the new financial year 2022-23 will bring more prosperity to our nation and to our business organizations as well as to our TIPS Bulletin Readers.

ONDC - Democratizing Digital Commerce

Open Network for Digital Commerce (ONDC) is an open-source network that will help local commerce in a variety of categories. The open technology network aims to challenge the dominance of e-commerce behemoths like Amazon and Walmart-owned Flipkart. The Centre is all set to launch the pilot phase of the Open Network for Digital Commerce (ONDC), a freely accessible online system for traders and consumers, in five cities - Delhi NCR, Bengaluru, Bhopal, Shillong & Coimbatore.. The open technology network, which will promote an open platform for buying and selling of goods and services, seeks to curb the dominance of e-commerce giants like Amazon and Walmart-owned Flipkart in the online retail space.

The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) seeks to digitise the entire value chain, standardise operations and promote inclusion of suppliers.

Tech czar Nandan Nilekani, co-founder Infosys, is part of the nine-member advisory council that was constituted to advise the government on the project.

How will it take on Amazon, Flipkart?

The government-backed platform will create a level playing field for e-commerce giants like Amazon, Flipkart, and small offline traders running local kirana stores, which form the backbone of the Indian retail system. It will help millions of small businesses go online & will provide multiple options. Thus, ONDC would standardize operations, promote inclusion of local suppliers, drive efficiencies in logistics and lead to enhancement of value for consumers
